

Partner/consortium search from Energy Cluster Zealand, Denmark

(Preliminary) Title of the project	TBD - 'market uptake of sustainable bioenergy'
Outline of the project idea	Energy Cluster Zealand is interested in joining a consortium with partners from across Europe to further develop local supply chains of biomass, methodologies for traceability of biomass (generation + organic), best practice knowledge-sharing and feed into the policy and regulation process by developing standards and performing capacity building activities with the relevant stakeholders. In the framework of a current project 'Bioenergy Zealand' The Energy Cluster in collaboration with Roskilde University has developed a number of case studies mapping the biomass availability and bioenergy potential within the Region Zealand depending on chosen technologies. In order to activate this research further towards actual bioenergy installations it is seen as necessary to work further with local communities, farmers and policymakers in raising informed awareness, developing standards and methodologies while looking also at ways of financing the forthcoming investments to decarbonise our energy supply. For info on Zealand Energy Cluster: http://www.energiklyngecenter.dk/en/Bioenergy.html
